

The Connecticut Mirror

Online journalism internship

The Connecticut Mirror, a nonprofit online news organization covering government, politics and public policy, is inviting students with an interest and background in journalism to apply for internships.

We are looking for applicants who are considering careers in journalism, and who have Internet knowledge and experience.

Interns will work with experienced journalists to develop stories, graphics and other information content for our news site, CTMirror.org. Interns must arrange to receive credit for their work.

Please send resume and writing sample to jobs@ctmirror.org; include the word “intern” in the subject line.

The Connecticut Mirror is based in Hartford.

Application deadlines:

- March 25 for the summer semester
- July 20 for the fall semester
- Oct. 10 for the spring semester
